DISCUSSION AND FINDINGS

GENERAL FINDINGS

The Panel concludes that Respondent did not file its Response to Complaint within due date i.e. within 30 working days from the Commencement of ADR Proceedings on January 6, 2020, or after that date, Respondent is completely passive and does not respond to notifications of the ADR Center. Therefore, pursuant to Paragraph B (10) of the ADR Rules the Panel shall proceed to issue a Decision based upon the facts and evidence provided by the Complainant.

SPECIFIC FINDINGS

Pursuant to Article 21, Speculative and abusive registrations of the Regulation (EC) No. 874/2004, for the Complainant in order to succeed it must prove that:

1. The disputed domain name is identical or confusingly similar to the name in respect of which a right is recognized or established by national/or Community law such as trademarks, trade names or service marks in which Complainant has rights; and
2. Respondent has no rights or legitimate interests in respect of the disputed domain name; or
3. The disputed domain name has been registered and is being use in bad faith.

The Panel will deal with each of these requirements in turn.

A. The disputed domain name is identical or confusingly similar to a trademark in respect of which a right is recognized or established by the national law of a Member State and/or Community law.

Respondent's <goldbeckgroup.eu> domain name is, obviously, confusingly similar to Complainant's trademarks "Goldbeck" and "GOLDBECK". As a matter of fact, the disputed domain name only differentiates itself from Complainant's marks (a) for the format required of Internet domain names, i.e., the inclusion of the suffix .eu, and (b) for the descriptive component "group".

In this regard, the terms "Goldbeck" and "goldbeckgroup" are phonetically, graphically and conceptually similar since Complainant's mark is entirely comprised in Respondent's domain name as its initial part, and consumers tend to focus their attention on the initial part of a sign. In addition, "group" is a very common term which refers to a group legal structure, and the meaning of which is easily understood even by consumers whose primary language is not English. Of course, the semantic content of the term "group" is entirely non-distinctive, so that the differences between "Goldbeck" and "goldbeckgroup" are really negligible. Consequently, the addition of the suffix - group in the disputed domain name and the presence of the .eu suffix are obviously not sufficient to differentiate Respondent's domain name from Complainant's trademarks.

Accordingly, the Complainant has successfully established that the disputed domain name is identical or confusingly similar to the trademarks in respect of which it has rights.

B. Respondent has no rights or legitimate interests in respect of the disputed domain name.

Respondent is not affiliated in any way with Complainant and, to the best of our knowledge, does not own any trademark applications or registrations for “goldbeckgroup” or any similar marks in connection with any goods or services.

Complainant has not licensed or otherwise authorized Respondent to use its “Goldbeck” or “GOLDBECK” trademarks, or to apply for any domain name incorporating such mark.

Respondent is not commonly known by the disputed domain name and does not trade under the name “goldbeckgroup” and does not make any legitimate commercial or non-commercial use thereof.

Complainant has been using its “Goldbeck” and “GOLDBECK” trademarks in commerce since long ago, and, as such, Complainant has established rights throughout the world in those trademarks.

Respondent chose a domain name which consists of Complainant’s mark and of the descriptive term “group”, thereby intentionally violating Complainant’s rights.

Finally, Respondent did not reply to Complainant’s arguments and decided not to take part in the ADR proceedings. This is a further indication of the absence of rights or legitimate interests in the disputed domain name.

Accordingly, Complainant has successfully established that the disputed domain name has been registered by Respondent without rights or legitimate interests in the name.

C. The disputed domain name has been registered and is being used in bad faith.

Respondent’s bad faith in registering and using <goldbeckgroup.eu> is evident for several reasons.

Since the disputed domain name was created only less than a year ago, it is obvious that Respondent registered it with a view to take unfair advantage of the reputation of the Complainant’s mark “Goldbeck”. It is therefore evident that not only the use of the disputed domain name is blatantly in bad faith, but also its registration considering the reputation enjoyed by the mark “Goldbeck”. In fact, when creating disputed domain name, Respondent knew or must have known that “Goldbeck” is a well-known brand in the construction business.

Respondent’s registration of <goldbeckgroup.eu> obviously confuses potential customers as to Respondent’s affiliation with Complainant since, it is absolutely plausible that the Complainant runs several branch operations for its products.

Respondent’s criminal behaviour by its blunt pretending in e-mail correspondence that he is actually Goldbeck gives additional argument and proof of his extreme bad faith.

Furthermore, Respondent’s domain name discouraged Internet users from locating Complainant’s true website, thereby diluting the value of Complainant’s “Goldbeck” trademark.

Currently, the website www.goldbeckgroup.eu appears to be in a clear state of passive holding.

Accordingly, Complainant has successfully established that the disputed domain name has been registered or is being used in bad faith.

DECISION

For all the foregoing reasons, in accordance with Paragraphs B12 of the Rules, the Panel orders that the domain name <GOLDBECKGROUP.EU> be transferred to the Complainant.
